

The Hilariously Funny Kerri Pomarolli Kicks Off Her Own Show "Laugh Break" Streaming Live Every Tuesday on MomTV

Los Angeles, CA ~ Kerri Pomarolli is a remarkable comic, has a notable career with a TV highlight performing on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno over 29 times and is pretty vocal about being the queen of diva-ism. Her gift of making people laugh has not only made her an audience favorite but has put her on stages throughout the U.S. and Canada. The über perky comedienne is becoming legendary in the entertainment industry by dominating the clean comedy circuit. She continues to change the rules by having huge crossover appeal giving her opportunities in both Christian and mainstream venues.

Although Pomarolli specializes in making people laugh she is finding that raising a child is more complicated. Her newest job is being mommy to 22 month old Lucy McGehee. Just as original and innovative as her comedy routines, Pomarolli takes on the meaning of Motherhood with her own show set to launch on MomTV Tuesday August 25. "Laugh Break" is possibly a chance for redemption for all the mothers out there. Pomarolli will take an entertaining look at the "traditional motherhood role" and compare it to real life that will include her own stories as well as others. She must call on the skills of mothers everywhere. She is on the road 40 weeks a year traveling with Lucy, which lends itself to many amusing stories.
