Covenant Care holding Ladies Night Out

Covenant Care Services, a Macon-based Christian adoption and counseling agency, will hold its second annual Ladies Night Out next week in Warner Robins.

Comedian Kerri Pomarolli will provide the laughs. Pomarolli has made multiple appearances on The Tonight Show, as well as on other television programs.

Ladies Night Out is an effort to raise not only funds but also awareness for Covenant Care. Since 1989, the agency has placed more than 400 children in two-parent Christian homes, according to a news release from the organization. More than 300 women seek its services annually during an unplanned pregnancy, the news release said.

The event will be Thursday, March 29, from 6 to 8 p.m. at Shirley Hills Baptist Church. Tickets are $20 each and include dinner catered by McCall's of Warner Robins.

Seating is limited to 400, and tickets must be purchased in advance by Monday, March 26. Tickets are available at Impressions in Perry, The Lamb's Well in Centerville, My Father's Place in Warner Robins, The Macon Christian Bookstore and Covenant Care offices in Macon.

For more information, call Covenant Care at 478-475-4990.
